St. Valentin, 03.12.2021

Tractor manufacturer CNH Industrial Österreich GmbH, parent company of Case IH and STEYR®, has been named ‘Best Internationally Operating Company 2021’ in the Austria’s Leading Companies competition, having won the same accolade in 2020. Case IH and STEYR tractors are manufactured at the St. Valentin facility in Lower Austria.

Acknowledged as the country’s most important business competition, the contest is organized by PricewaterhouseCoopers (PwC), Austrian daily newspaper ‘Die Presse’, and financial data provider KSV1870.

The ‘International’ category is open to companies with an international structure, business model and value chain/customer structure. They must produce products or services of global market relevance, with exports accounting for a significant share of production, and have overseas branches.

The St. Valentin plant produces Case IH and STEYR tractors for customers in Europe, Africa, Middle East, Asia and around the Pacific.

Christian Huber, Managing Director CNH Industrial Österreich GmbH and Vice President Global Tractor Product Management Case IH & STEYR says: “Being named twice as Best Internationally Operating Company is a great honour and, underlines, once again, the ‘Quality made in Austria’ status of our tractors which our customers value and respect.

Plant Manager at St. Valentin, Hannes Woegerbauer, adds: “The Award is particularly valued in another year of exceptional challenges for everyone within our company, supply chain partners and dealers. It has been tremendously encouraging that all have worked very hard to minimise the impact on production and the supply chain to our customers – and most importantly to ensure the health and safety of our employees.”
