

SDM & SDH DISC CULTIVATOR

SDM or SDH?

Stubble cultivation is key for residue incorporation, weed seed germination or seedbed preparation. Our SDM range is ideal for 3-10cm cultivation. The SDH range, with its larger discs and comprehensive suspension system, has been designed for deeper cultivation and coping with heavy surface residue.

Disc system

The SDM range feature a 520mm diameter concaved shape disc with a notched edge for good cutting and ground following capabilities and has rubber suspension to give vertical movement of 100mm.

The SDH range features a 610mm diameter notched disc, mounted with C shaped spring, delivering 200mm vertical movement.

Choice of roller

The roller acts both as rear depth control and a crumbling and packing unit. Choose between a single cage roller, double cage roller, ring roller and a double-U roller - perfect choices to suit your soil.
